ant assurances of their commander that they would knock off the shovel and the hee very soon, and he replaced by the eternal gentleman of colour. "Three wheers for Gen. Pillow" were called for, and were responded to by the whesping and screeching sounds that pass muster in this part of the world for cheers. As they ended a steatoristic voice shouled out "Who cares for Gen. Pillow" and as no one answered, it might be unfairly inferred that gallant officer was not the object of the favor or solicitude of his troops; probably a temporary unpopularity connected with hard work found expression in the daring question.

How to Attack.—Randolph's Point, is, no doubt, a very strong position. The edges of the plateau command the rear of the hatteries below, the ravines in the bluff would give cover to a large force of riffusion, who could render the batteries untenable if taken from the river face, unless the camp in their rear on the top of the plateau was carried. Great loss of life, and probable failure, would result from any attack on the works from the river merely. But a flottila might get past the guing without any serious less in the present state of their service and equipment, and there is nothing I saw to prevent the landing of a force on the banks of the river, which, with a combined action on the part of an adequate force of guinbarts, could carry the position. As the river fails, the round-shot fire of the guins will be even less effective.

Forcepuers to Fight but not to Vote.—My companion was a very intelligent Southern gentleman, formerly editor of a newspaper. We talked uthward ere the firing ceased. FIENDISH TREATMENT OF PRIPONERS-ONE

The officers of the volunteer regiments are in terrified consternation at the alleged promulgation of an order requiring an examination by a board of regular army officers as to their fitness for their respective positions. All proving unqualified, it is said, will have to surrender their commissions and give way to others who have given more time to Hardee's tactics and less to Washington hotels. Incompetency and cowardice of officers are assigned as embodying the causes of the recent disastrone defeat at Bull Run. To officers known as behaving cowardly no mercowill be shown. The enthusiasm of the soldiery dampened, at the result of Sunday's lastite, is rapidly reviving. A few days' rest, good quality of rations, and learning that the victory was more on our side than with the snemy, with promised removal of inefficient officers, has stimulated an earnest desire to do battle over again. The smell of powder has excited a wish for more of the same are

MR. RUSSELL'S LAST LETTER TO THE LOND Times .- Mr. Russell's letter is dated at Cairo,

The Toothpicks.—On the Irain before us there has jest passed on a comeony armed with large lawie knives and rifled pistels, who called themselves the "Toothpick company." They carried a coffin along with them, on which was a plate with "Abe Lincoln" inscribed on it, and they sumused themselves with the whildish conceit of lelling the people as they went along that "they were lound" to bring his body back in it.

The lattlery at Memphis—First we visited the ibluff on the edge of which is constructed a breast-work of cotton beles, which no infantry could select the second of the construction of the selection of t The littlery at Hemphis — First we visited the bluff of the edge of which is constructed a breast-work of cotton belse, which no infantry could get at, and which would offer no resistance to vertical and but little to horizontal fire. It is placed as close to the edge of the bluff at various places, that shell and shot would knock away the bank from under it. The river rolls below deep and strong and across the roads or water courses leading lot tare feeble barricades of plank, which a howitzer could shiver to pieces in a few rounds. Higher up the bank, no a commanding plateau, there is a breastwork and parapet, within which are six guns, and the General informed me he interded to mount thirteen guns at this part of the river, which would certainly prove very formidable to such eleamers as they have on these waters, if any attempt were made to move down from Cairo. In the course of the day I was introduced to exactly seventeen colonels and ene captain.

The Randolph Buttery.—The first work inspected was a plain parapet of earth placed seeme fifty feet above the river, and protected very slightly by two small fluking parapets. Six guns, 32-pounders, and howitzers of an old pattern were mounted en burbette, without any traverses whatver. The carriages resided on rough platforms, and the wheels ran on a traversing semi-circle of plank, as the iron rails were not yet ready. The gunners, a plain looking body of men, very like railway laborers and mechanics, without uniform, were engaged at drill. It was neither quick nor good work—about equal to the average of a equal of the men worked sarnestly, and I have no doubt, if the federalists give them time, they will prove arrively men the water, with four guns (32-pounders), which were well placed to aweep the channel with mere will prove a river, and it was not obtained and the men worked sarnestly, and I have no doubt, if the federalists give them time, they will prove arrively men of incoheren of incoheren of incoheren of incoheren of incoheren of incoheren of incoher federalists give them time, they will prove artillerymen in the end.

Turning from this baitery, wa visited another near the water, with four guns (62-pounders), which were well placed to sweep the channel with greater chance of ricochet; and higher up on the bank, towards a high peak commanding the Mississippi, here about 700 yards broad, and a small confluent which runs into it, was another battery of two guns, with a very great command, but only lif for sholl, as the tire must be plunging. All these hatteries are very ill constructed, and in only one was the magazine ander decent cover. In the first it was in the rear of the battery, up the hill behind it. The parapets were of sand or soft earth, unprovided with merlons. The last had a few sand bags between the guns. Riding up a steep road, we came to the camps of the men on the wooded and undulating plateau over the river, which is lirken by water coursee into ravines covered with brushwood and forest trees.

For five weeks the Tennessee troops under Gen. Pillow, who is at the head of the forces of the Staie, lasve been working at a series of curious entrenchments, which are supposed to represent an entrenched camp, and which look like an assemblage of mud beaver dams. In a word, they are so complicated that they would prove exceedingly troublesome to the troops in their defence, and it would riquire very steady, experienced regulars to man them so as to give proper support to each other. The maze of hreastworks, of flanking parapels, of parapets for tield pieces, is overdone. Several of them neight prove useful to an attacking force. In some places the worl was cut down in front so as to form a formidable matural abatti; but generally here, as in the latteries below, timber and brushwood were left uncut up lo easy masket shot of the works, so as to recen an advance of rithmen, and to expose the detending f-ree to considerable annovance.

General Pillow.—The General addressed the men, who were in line two deep (many of them unmistakable Irishmen), and said

Foregiers to Fight but not to Vote.—My companion was a very intelligent Southern gentleman, formerly editor of a newspaper. We talked of the crime of the country, or the brutal shortings and stabbings which disgraced it. He admitted their existence with regret, but he could advise and suggest no remedy. "The rowdies have rushed in upon us, so that we can imster them."

"Is the law powerless?" "Well, sir, vou see tree to the horige, was read poted.

"Are not many of your regiments composed of (commans of your regiments composed of termans and rish—of foreigners, in fact?" "Yea, sir."

I did not suggest to him the thought which rose in my mind, that these gentlemen, if successful, would be vary little inclined to abandon their rights while they had arms in their hands; that it occurred to me as well that this would be rather appoor reward for the men who were engaged in the order of the men who were engaged in the order of the men who were engaged in the model and passed by the following vote:

LA-GOVERNOR MORLHLAD IN KLATUCKY AND IN GEORGIA.-It is well known that ex-Governor Morehead has uniformly and even vehemently, in this State, declared himself in favor of the firm and steady maintenance of Kentucky's position of armed neutrality. He has all along assumed that Kentucky could not abaudon her neutral position without beinging upon herself the most neter rain. He has repeatedly and emphatically endorsed the address of the Union Central Committee of the State, which entorced the doctrine of Kentucky neutrality as a roughy as the Committee knew how to en torce it. Moreover, he planted himself steadtastly upon that doctrine in his elaborate adcress at the court-house in this city on the 15th of June. He said in that address that he was no secessionist, that he was as vehement ing, and he declared the enduring policy o Ki piurky to be that "we should maintain a no train toon between the belligerents North and S ... and, po sony ourselves upon our State soveregnly, say to each of them, or had no

We have startling accounts of the reign of terror in some portions of Virginia. A gentleman by the name of John Thompson, with his wife and seven children, arrived here on foot, on Saturday last, from Christiansburg, Montgomery ounty, Virginia, having been driven from their had all their earthly possessions in a wagon, until they reached the Cumberland Gap, at which sum of money. After having been robbed, they were ellowed ten minutes to depart. The unhappy family then made the distance to this city ot, arriving at the intersection of Main street and Beargrass on Saturday evening in a destitute condition. They were kindly cared for by some only of the mode of their capture. of the charitable citizens of Butchertown, who are proverbial for their liberality. Mr. Thompson informs us that about fifteen hundred Confedate troops are encamped in Kentucky, about two iles from the Tennessee line, and that there are between four and five bundred soldiers near tha Gap in Tennessee. He was permitted to pass tha the troops who are encamped in Kentucky.

BIVER AND STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The river is rising at this point with four feet rater in the canal last evening. The weather is arm and cloudy. At Pittsburg at noon yesterday the river was at a stand, with thirty inches water in the chan-aving fallen five inches since Saturday. The three Government gunboats, the A. () Tyler, the Lexington, and the Connestoge, availed nselves of the rise in the river and crossed the ortland bar to Lower Albany. It is said that hey are to be equipped at New Albany, and we at there is truth in the rumor, for the Naw Alany boat-builders are not excelled anywhere. The splendid eteamer Superior is the regular mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati at noon

TREATED IN THE SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY. The Courier of yesterday makes a farcical atempt to persuade foreign-born citizens that the recent army order requiring volunteers to speak the language in which they must receive their commands on the battle lield is a blo levelled at the rights of such citizens. The attempt is not only farcical but half-witted. It. however, has served to tix our attention upon the subjoined passage in Mr. Russell'elast letter to the London Times, which we reproduce hy way of offsetting the Courier's idiotism with piece of solid truth. Let our foreign-born citizens attend:

My companion was a very intelligent Scuthern gentleman, formerly editor of a newspaper. We talked of tha crime of tha country, or the hrutal shootings and stablings which disgraced It. He admitted their existence with regret, but be could advise and suggest no remedy. "The rowdies have rushed in upon us, eo that we can't master them." "Is the law powerless?" "Well, air, you see these men get hold of those who should administer the law, or they are too powerful or to reckless to be kept down" "That is a reign of terror—of mob ruffianism?" "It don't hurt respectable people much; but I agree with yon it must be put down." When—how? "Well, air, when things are estiled, well just take the law into citizens attend: be put down. "When—how? "Well, sir, wher things are settled, well just take the law into onr own hands. Not a man shall have a vot-unless he's American born, and, by degrees, wa'l get rid of these men who disgrace ua. "Are no many of your regiments composed of German and Irish—of foreignera, in fact?" "Yea, sir." and frish—of foreigners, in fact?" "Yes, sir."

I did not anggest to him the thought which rose in my mind, that these gentlemen, if successful, would be very littla inclined to abandon their rights while they had arme in their hande; but it occurred to me as well that this would be rather a poor raward for tha men who were engaged in establishing the Southern Confederacy. The attempt may fail, but assuredly I have heard it expressed too often to doubt that there is a datermination on the part of the leadars in the movemination on the part of the leadars in the move-ment to take away the suffrage from the men whom they do not scruple to employ in fighting heir battles. Mon. John Joyes, Fig., Louiseille, Ky:

My Dear Sir: I went to-day before the Corener's jury that held an irquest over the body of young Morris Mentgomery, who came to his death by a pistol shot in the bands of your son, Erskine Joyes. I examined the witnesses carefully, and, after hearing all the testimony, the jury returned their verdict that your son was acting in his own necessary define, when he shot Mr. Montgomery. He, your son, got innocently into the difficulty. He was trying to prevent a fight between young Mentgomery and a man by the name of Fleicher, and in doing so an altercetion grow up between the two young friends, and they engaged in a fight; your son had no arms—Montgomery had Erskine down, was on him, and had his pistol presented on his person, when your son tarmed it on Montgomery. It twent off, and the poor fellow was killed with his own pistol while he was on his antagonist. They were good friends, and immediately after he was shot, your son expressed his sorrow et the unfortunate affair, end Montgomery said he could not blame him, for if Erskine had not shot him, he would have killed Erskine. Before his death an honr or so, he stated to a young friend who was with him, he bad no hard feelings to your son, and that he acted in defence of his own life. The jury did not hesitate to render the verdict above etaled. No man can more sincerely regret the and occurrence than your son. It will, however, be gratiliying to his feelings and to yours, to feel and know he is guilty of no crime, and that he acted in defence of his own life, in an emergency brought on hy no fault of his.

He was compelled, before being released, to take an oath not to reveal anything relative to the force or defences of the rebels or what he see there it is consequently chary in his communication. He attakes that the party were ellowed to pass up to Manassas, where, upon presenting themselves to General Heauregard, they ware arrested and placed in continement for several days. In the meantime, Mesers, Harris & McGraw were sent to Kichmend as prisoners.

Mr. Burch through the intervention of personal acquaintances et the Junction was examined and dismissed, and was allowed to return. He learnd that Mr. Harris would probably, through the influence of prominent personal friends, obtain his release, but there is no probability of the immediate release of McGraw, who is a Pennsylvanian. Both were believed to be very deeply indued with rebel sympathy. Burch was not permitted to examine the hattle-tield. It is supposed Col. chanan. At least so it is to be hoped.

I seen North as Missel et.—The Keok ek is tate of ty, of the 25d, learns that the secessionists have taken possession of Memphis, in Scotland county, and are entrenching against attack. A federal force numbering about one thousand is tationed near by. There was some skirmishing on Morday, and one of the Federals was killed. The next day the Union men marched into and scuped Athens, which is in Clark county, opposite lows. They expect reinforcements from Frinness, Big Mound, and other points. There is great excitement on the northwest border.

Call Bansey, Ad to Gov. Kirkwood, has distributed one thousand etand of arms between larmington and Eddyville. He says about four undred Missecurians are encamped within a mile of one of Memphis, on the presence that they are marding the town against the Luion trops. They are also concentrating at Einz, Scotland ounts, as short for such a few of the Clark county one. Col. Bunsey repurts that they are disarrained units, as short for more wherever they can find them.

From other securces we learn that alsont fifty wounted secessionists were in Tina on Sunday wounted secesionists were in Tina on Sunday wounted secessionists were in Tina on Sunday wounted secesionists were in the tother part

More or the trian. By the cars last evening, President Statement.—By the cars last evening, President Davis et mad from the battle field, to response to enthusuadic calls from an immerscribed in the street, to briefly alluded to the crand and absorbing typic of the day. The enemal, with the taxes the shift described in the crand and absorbing typic of the day. The enemal, with the taxes the shift does imposing on us the twenty years, had ultred on an army on the amount magnificent scale. They had come nive to trigging, with amountain, arms, ambulanes, cuted upon a style of luxury, as though they be night they were still texing the South, five handred or eix hundred wagen, and provisions of every kind in abundance, for a whole campaign, for the first parks of loss sy and light actiliers, and the schole of it seems. They ded and left everything they could throw awa. The last that was heard of them,

It is not yet possible to desermine the number of be hilled and wounded of the enemy. The prob-shity is, that the sum total will not fall short of

Our own casualties will not exceed 1,200.
President Davis pureed the highest enconiums pon our heroic soldiers, and particularly the two-minent men in command—Beauregard and Johnston.—Racknowd Wheg. 24th.

NAVAL OPERATIONS.—As some alarm is fell about the safety of California steamers, it may be as well to state that seven dues ago, on the 16th instant, the Secretary of the Navy ordered the Keystone State to sail without dulay for Aspunwall to convey the Northern Light home. In the city of New York and at the Brooklym navy and at least twalter steamers are now fatting and cumberland (.op.—livery pass or gap in the Cumberland (.op.—livery pass or gap in the Cumberland Mountains leading into East Tennessee from Kenlucky is now gnarded by armed lodies of secession trasps, as also some of the gaps leading into Virginia through which it might be possible to reach last Tennessee. At the Cumberland Gap, which is the great pass from Kentucky through East Tennessee, there are now stationed a guard of about 500 mem—one company of cavalry, the belance infantry—at that point. The people in the incuntains are getting restive under this state of things, and there is a disposition among some of the Union men to open the Gap at all hazards, so that our Union tenthren in East Tennessee can receive succor. We are locking for lively times there before long.
